

WITH SIX CHAPTERS AND DOZENS OF MEMBERS, TRANSPORTATION NOW

has been a champion of public transit in Riverside County for over two decades.

For Transportation NOW members, it's all about being part of the movement. The movement of people on buses and trains, that is.

Since our inception in 1992, Transportation NOW has been a proud advocate and enthusiastic supporter of public transportation in Riverside County. Our efforts have produced results that will last a lifetime, and ensure that bus and rail usage remains an integral part of this region for years to come.

Members of our grassroots group — ranging from elected officials to community activists to everyday transit users — are committed not only to addressing regional transportation issues but meeting the needs of our individual communities.

And with growing concern over crowded freeways, high fuel costs and emphasis on finding cleaner and greener ways to get around, Transportation NOW is focused on the challenges that lie ahead and dedicated to making a real difference.

There's never been a better time to be part of the movement.

Greater Riverside | Meets the second Thursday of each month.

The Greater Riverside chapter was established in 2009 and is still actively working to serve and address the needs of a diverse population that is rapidly growing throughout the City and County. The chapter works with local colleges and universities to promote public transit and relieve traffic congestion in the surrounding communities. Group members are committed to addressing the needs and concerns from riders throughout the region, helping to improve access to vital resources, enhancing community mobility and public transportation development, and helping to ensure that state and federal funding for public transit remains a priority.

Hemet/San Jacinto | Meets the 2nd Wednesday of each month.

The Hemet San Jacinto Area chapter was formed most recently and has quickly established itself as an active chapter. Composed of public officials, schools district representatives, local business owners, and members of the general public, the chapter has chosen to focus on improving connectivity to their region via bus, train, auto, and bike. The chapter works with local jurisdictions to improve bus stop amenities and ensure safe travel for school age children. Additionally, the members of the group are environmental stewards and work to advocate for environmentally friendly and sustainable transportation policy.

Moreno Valley/Perris | Meets the 3rd Thursday of each month.

The Moreno Valley/Perris T-NOW chapter advocates for improved methods of public transportation while at the same time increasing awareness of the current methods offered. A steadfast lobbyist for public transit in one of the fastest-growing regions in the nation, the chapter is routinely evaluating bus routes, bike paths, public trails, crosswalks, freeway routes and even alternative energy solutions to public transit which will provide enhanced services in communities throughout the cities of Moreno Valley, Perris and unincorporated communities of Riverside County supervisorial district 1.

Northwest | Meets the 2nd Thursday of each month.

The Northwest T-NOW members work to expand transit services and improve the connectivity between bus and rail service to better serve the residents of Corona, Eastvale, Jurupa Valley, Norco, Temescal Valley and surrounding communities. Members have successfully worked to help secure federal grant money for the advancement of public transit in our communities. Northwest T-NOW member participation in community events has educated community residents about the economic and environmental benefits of riding public transportation.

San Geronio Pass Area | Meets the first Thursday of each month

This chapter has long championed the cause for improved public transit in central Riverside County. Because everyone benefits from public transportation, this group is focused on educating various members of the community, especially senior citizens and youth. This chapter also studies public transit attitudes and trends to help improve bus connections locally and to other parts of the county.

Southwest | Meets the 4th Wednesday of each month.

The Southwest chapter allows more people in Canyon Lake, Lake Elsinore, Menifee, Murrieta, Temecula, and other cities in southwest Riverside County to get involved in an issue that affects everyone living in this region. The chapter's popularity is growing as members ranging from lawmakers to school district officials to everyday bus riders join the cause. Like other chapters, the Southwest group is committed to promoting bus and rail use, and educating others about the economic, environmental and personal benefits of public transportation.
